BOOKS OF REFERENCE AND COURSE OF READING.

Allen & Greenough's and Harkness's Latin Grammars; Goodwin's and Hadley's Greek Grammars; Andrews' or White's Latin Lexicon; Liddell and Scott's Greek Lexicon; Smith's Classical Dictionary; Anthon's Dictionary of Antiquities; Schmitz' Classical Atlas.

It is expected that students will read Thalheimer's Manuals of Ancient and Modern History, Liddell's History of Rome, Student's Gibbon, Smith's History of Greece, and Green's History of England.

ORIGIN AND DESIGN OF THE UNIVERSITY.

BALDWIN INSTITUTE, located at Berea, Ohio, was founded, as a Seminary, in the year 1845, by Hon. John Baldwin.

In 1856, the Trustees, acting under the direction of the N. O. Conference of the M. E. Church, effected a change of charter by which University powers were secured, and the name of the Institution was changed from Baldwin Institute to Baldwin University.

The course of instruction is comprehensive, practical and thorough.

RELATION TO GERMAN WALLACE COLLEGE.

The relation of the University to German Wallace College, not only renders it practicable to economize, but affords the students of the University an opportunity, without additional expense, to enjoy in the departments of Greek and Modern Languages, the instructions of the Professors in German Wallace College. The students of German Wallace College have like privileges in regard to Baldwin University.

No better facilities for the study of the German Language can be found in this country.

SOCIETIES.

Connected with the University are four flourishing Literary Societies; two for gentlemen, the Philozetian and Phrenocosmian, and two for ladies, the Alethean and Clionian.

BUILDINGS.

Two large buildings are now occupied by the institution—Hulet Hall, a large building of stone, having a fine audience room in the upper story, and superior recitation rooms in the lower, and South Hall, a three-story brick building, used for a boarding hall and dormitories. Each dormitory is furnished with a stove, bedstead, table, and two chairs. Other things needed must be furnished by the student.

An elegant and commodious Boarding Hall for ladies is in process of erection. This building, which is to consist of a basement and two additional stories, will be pushed forward to completion as rapidly as the collections of the subscriptions will justify.

LOCATION.

BALDWIN UNIVERSITY is located at Berea, Cuyahoga County, Ohio, thirteen miles from Cleveland, on the Cleveland and Columbus, and the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railways. A street railroad connects the Depot with the center of the village.
